SKRIBBL.IO & STOPOTS

1. Objective
   To enjoy friendly competition with other schools virtually through exciting online games.

2. Event Description
   With PSWC 2021 being online, PSWC will be hosting a competitive Skribbl.io and StopotS tournament. Players will be split up into groups of 6 to compete with other ASCE student chapter members.

3. Participant Rules
   ☐ Each school must enter 2 students.
   ☐ At least one of the students must be female.
   ☐ Each participant must be a registered participant of PSWC 2021.

4. Rules
   Skribbl.io
   ☐ All participants will begin in one Zoom room, where the host will randomly assign members into breakout rooms of 6 people (there should be 6 rooms with 6 people).
   ☐ One member from each breakout room will be expected to create a private Skribbl.io room for their breakout room to compete in.
   ☐ Games will be 5 rounds; 40 seconds draw time.
     o For those of you who have never played:
       ▪ Each player will take turns choosing a word to draw and drawing it.
       ▪ While that player is drawing, the others will be guessing what the word is.
       ▪ Once everyone has guessed the word, or the timer has run out, the turn ends, and the next player goes.
       ▪ Points are awarded based on speed of guessing the correct word.
       ▪ There is no penalty for guessing wrong, so don’t hold back on spamming guesses.
       ▪ There will be a hint above the main drawing section that reveals the number of letters and, as time goes on, reveas a letter or two of the word.
   ☐ Once your game is complete, return to the main room. The winner of the game (whoever scores the most points) will report to the host that they have won.
   ☐ The six winners will advance onto the final round, where they will compete in another game of Skribbl.io. They will be put into their own breakout room to compete.

   Scoring
   The top three scorers will earn points for their school based on their placement.
StopotS

Following Skribbl.io, the host will randomly assign members into breakout rooms of 6 people again; this time, to play StopotS (essentially an online version of Scattergories).

The process will repeat, with one person from each breakout room setting up a private room for their group.

Games will be 5 rounds, Medium time. Categories and letters can remain default.

- For those of you who have never played:
  - A random letter will be assigned to the group at the start, and there will be a limited amount of time to complete several categories (celebrity, movie title, body part, etc.) with a word that starts with the letter assigned.
  - Once the timer is up, players will have a chance to vote whether the other player’s answers are valid or not. To vote an answer out, simply click on it (it should turn from green to red).
  - The player who answers the most categories will gain the most points.

Once your game is complete, return to the main room. The winner of the game (whoever scores the most points) will report to the host that they have won.

The six winners will advance onto the final round, where they will compete in another game of StopotS. They will be put into their own breakout room to compete.

Scoring

The top three scorers will earn points for their school based on their placement.
